

The Bare Female Final Research Report

Methods, Findings, Recommendations & Limitations

Project Name	Brand Voice vs. Audience Reality: A Case Study on The Bare Female
Research Methodology	Mixed-Methods Content Analysis
Research Analyst	Ambrosia Ardenvale-Wood
Date of Creation	June 2026

Key Findings at a Glance

- Values Alignment is the brand's structural foundation
- Viewers bond with Lisa personally more than with the community
- Brand rhetoric translates to audience experience at a consistent rate, regardless of content register
- Video descriptions and community posts serve complementary but distinct functions
- Audience sentiment is uniformly enthusiastic

1. Introduction

Company Snapshot + Research Objectives

The Bare Female is an international yoga platform operated by Lisa Weinhold, based in Mallorca, Spain. With 217K YouTube subscribers, 25K Instagram followers, and a private membership site, Unfold, the brand offers yin yoga, nervous system regulation, and embodiment practices centered in feminine wisdom and cyclical lifestyle practices.

This research addresses understanding which content and communication strategies are most effective at fostering audience loyalty, and how Lisa's viewers viscerally experience this connection, to inform decisions about content direction, brand voice, and channel investment. A mixed-methods design combining brand content analysis and audience comment coding was used to investigate this question across three research objectives, outlined below.

- Identify community-building language and content strategies currently used, including video descriptions, and community posts, to map brand voice.
- Measure frequency and emotional valence of loyalty and community-related viewer comment themes, to guide content generation for deepest audience resonance.
- Assess alignment between the brand's expressed values and viewer perceptions, to reveal both connectedness and potential gaps between The Bare Female and her intended audience.

2. Methodological Overview

Qualitative Content Analysis + Quantitative Audience Coding

For the qualitative component, a systematic content analysis was conducted across 13 brand content units from The Bare Female's YouTube channel, including seven video descriptions and six community posts, using a five-category coding scheme: Community Language, Inner Authority References, Engagement Prompts, Values Alignment, and Exclusivity. All dimensions were scored as follows: 0 (Absent), 1 (Present), and 2 (Prominent). Pinned comments were originally planned as a third content type, but are not utilized on the channel, so that part of the sample was redistributed across the remaining categories.

The quantitative research segment included twenty-four viewer comments that were collected from five YouTube videos, and then coded using a six-dimension audience response rubric: Sense of Belonging, Parasocial Intimacy with Instructor, Inner Authority Mirroring, Emotional & Somatic Transformation, Loyalty & Sustained Engagement, and Overall Sentiment. Dimensions were scored 0–2 as above, except Overall Sentiment, which was formatted as: 1 (Negative), 2 (Neutral), and 3 (Positive). No participant contact was required to conduct the study, as all data was drawn from publicly available YouTube content.

3. Qualitative Findings

YouTube Channel Content Analysis

Values Alignment emerged as the dominant segment, averaging 1.92 out of 2.0, utilized prominently for all communications, regardless of commercial intent. Somatic healing, nervous system regulation, embodied feminine wisdom, and personal transformation form The Bare Female's rhetorical values foundation. Phrases like “everything you seek is already within,” “return to yourself, exactly as you are,” and “the quiet knowing of your feminine essence” appear across all video descriptions. Values-based communication therefore appears essential to the brand.

Community Language scored second at 1.69, split by content type: Community posts averaged 2.0, while video descriptions came in somewhat lower at 1.43. The reverse pattern presented with Inner Authority References: Video descriptions averaged 1.71 versus 0.83 for community posts. The Bare Female's video descriptions seem to serve as philosophical and yogic explanatory containers, while the channel's community posts orchestrate logistical and event-driven outreach. These two communication vehicles serve unique yet interdependent functions.

Engagement Prompts averaged 1.46, concentrated in community posts and commercially-oriented video descriptions. Exclusivity scored lowest at 0.92, appearing primarily within paid or premium content containers, such as Unfold membership and the Sensual Soma retreat, while free YouTube content maintained a welcome-to-all tone.

These findings address Research Objective 1 directly, providing a map of Lisa's brand voice: Philosophy-infused, welcoming and inclusive, and distinct yet complementary marketing outreach styles between content types.

4. Quantitative Results

Audience Comment Coding Synthesis

Emotional & Somatic Transformation scored highest across 24 coded viewer comments, averaging 1.5 out of 2.0. Viewers consistently described specific, felt experiences: Trembling during poses, crying, releasing grief, and connecting practice to their menstrual cycles. Rarely was appreciation expressed generically. One viewer left this representative, heartfelt comment: “Your love is so pure and unconditional and understanding! I love all the energy and compassion, the gratitude you hold for what it means to be a human on this earth,” (@budahbroken).

Parasocial Intimacy ranked second at 1.25, with viewers addressing Lisa as “dear Lisa,” “Mama Bare,” and “an angel.” Loyalty & Sustained Engagement averaged 1.17, with several commenters referencing years of continued practice, and one audience member explicitly stating that they could no longer practice with anyone else. Sense of Belonging and Inner Authority Mirroring tied lowest at 0.88 each. Overall sentiment scored a uniform 3.0, with every comment in the sample registering as positive or enthusiastic, a possible sign of audience cohesion, and likely indicating sampling self-selection bias.

Notably, eight of the 24 comments (33% of the sample) scored 10 or higher out of a possible 12 across the five non-sentiment dimensions, indicating a distinct “superfan” subgroup, which may represent the audience segment most primed for conversion to paid membership, and warrants dedicated attention in future research.

These results connect to Research Objective 2, as content generating deepest audience resonance is somatic and emotionally transformative, with parasocial connection to Lisa as a strong secondary driver.

5. Integrated Insights

Connecting Qualitative + Quantitative Findings

The clearest intersection forms between the brand's Values Alignment dominance and the audience's Emotional & Somatic Transformation response. Lisa consistently speaks about transformation, embodiment, and feminine healing, and viewers report experiencing exactly those transcendent qualities. Brand rhetoric and audience outcome therefore appear well-aligned.

Inner Authority References like self-trust and coming home to the body scored 1.31 on the branding side, yet Inner Authority Mirroring by audience members dipped down to 0.88, resulting in only a partial convergence. The brand's framework appears to be metabolized internally rather than articulated directly, with viewers feeling the somatic effects more than they speak outright the philosophy related to their experience. Notably, this same gap size (0.43) recurs almost identically in the Values & Somatic pair (0.42) despite its much higher register, suggesting the shortfall is structural rather than content-dependent: Audiences may simply underreport internal experience in public comments regardless of theme, rather than finding self-authority language specifically harder to voice.

The most significant divergence addresses Research Objective 3: Community Language scores 1.69 on branding, yet Sense of Belonging averages only 0.88 in the sample. Parasocial Intimacy achieves a significantly higher 1.25. Despite communal phrasing like "our family," "sweet loves," and "we journey together," viewers experience the channel primarily as a personal relationship with Lisa, rather than membership in a peer community.

6. Recommendations

Position Unfold membership as premium access + increased relational touchpoints to Lisa.

Viewers bond primarily with Lisa as an individual, evidenced by Parasocial Intimacy at 1.25, rather than in connection with their peers, as reflected in Sense of Belonging at 0.88. Spotlighting deepened proximity to Lisa aligns subscriber-to-private-member conversion structure with the sample audiences' preferred mode of connection.

Develop Inner Authority content to bridge YouTube → Unfold.

Inner Authority References score strongly in video descriptions at 1.71, but drop in community posts down to 0.83. A dedicated community post series applying self-trust and embodiment language could strengthen Lisa's philosophical presence outside video content and lead viewers to paid membership.

Structure Unfold invitations around personal storytelling moments.

Community posts featuring personal disclosure generated the highest Community Language, at 2.0. Soft Unfold invitations embedded in these tender moments, rather than as standalone promotional prose, are likely to resonate strongly with viewers and may increase subscriber-to-private-member conversion.

Engage The Bare Female's broader subscriber-member populace with a comprehensive survey.

A critical next step involves surveying the YouTube base + Unfold platform members to obtain specific, generalizable insights around subscriber-member relationship drivers, brand perceptions, and conversion trends.

7. Methodological Constraints

Limitations + Future Research

This study carries two primary methodological constraints worth noting. First, the quantitative audience sample was drawn exclusively from public YouTube comments, a self-selecting pool that skews toward enthusiastic viewers. The resulting uniform Overall Sentiment score of 3.0 across all 24 coded comments likely reflects this bias rather than the full range of audience perception, and should be interpreted accordingly. This same self-selection may also explain the consistent brand-to-audience gap identified in the Integrated Insights section: viewers undergoing the deepest internal shifts may be the least likely to disclose them publicly, regardless of the type of content involved. Second, with 13 qualitative content units and 24 audience comments, the dataset is sufficient for exploratory pattern identification but not for generalization across the broader subscriber base.

Future research should prioritize a randomized survey distributed across The Bare Female's 217K YouTube subscribers and Unfold membership base. A larger, more representative sample would yield more reliable conversion data, surface neutral and critical audience perspectives currently absent from the dataset, test whether audience underreporting is content-dependent or a general artifact of public self-selection, and provide the statistical foundation needed to test the patterns identified here at scale.

8. Appendix

Raw Data, Coding Instruments & Summary Tables

This appendix contains all raw data and research instruments used in the mixed-methods study of The Bare Female. It is organized across four sections: coding instruments (Appendix A–B), qualitative raw and coded data (Appendix C–D), and quantitative raw and coded data (Appendix E–F), followed by a summary table (Appendix G).

Methodological Note:* The original research proposal included pinned/featured comments as a third unit of analysis for the qualitative content analysis. Upon conducting fieldwork, it was determined that The Bare Female does not use the pinned comment feature on YouTube. The sample was therefore redistributed across video descriptions (n = 7) and community posts (n = 6).

Appendix A: Qualitative Content Analysis Coding Schema

Units of Analysis: Individual video descriptions and community posts (n = 13 total).

Coding Scale: 0 = Absent | 1 = Present | 2 = Prominent

Category	Operational Definition	Examples
Community Language	Use of inclusive pronouns, group identity terms, belonging cues	"Help support you," "loving community," "connective sisterhood"
Inner Authority References	Messaging that locates wisdom, healing, and guidance within the self	Self-trust cues, embodiment references, and return / homecoming metaphors
Engagement Prompts	Direct calls to interact, comment, share or respond	"Journey invites you," "Dive into your body," "help you navigate"
Values Alignment	Messaging that signals shared beliefs or lifestyle identity	References to transformation, mindful living, authentic expression, soulful
Exclusivity	Content framing membership as special or privileged	"Exclusive bundles," "Retreats for women," "sacred online membership"

Appendix B: Quantitative Audience Response Coding Rubric

Unit of Analysis: YouTube viewer comments (n = 24 total).

Dimensions 1–5: 0 = Absent | 1 = Present | 2 = Prominent Overall Sentiment: 1 = Negative | 2 = Neutral | 3 = Positive

Dimension	Indicators	Score Descriptions
Sense of Belonging	Describes feeling part of community, group, shared space, including language related to being held, witnessed, not alone.	0 = No belonging language 1 = Positive group feeling ("I love this community!") 2 = Deep relational language ("I finally found my people")
Parasocial Intimacy with Instructor	Addresses or describes the instructor with relational, emotional, or friendship-oriented language.	0 = No personal reference 1 = Warm but general ("she's great," "I love her energy") 2 = Intimate framing ("she feels like a friend," "your presence means everything")
Inner Authority Mirroring	Echoes the brand's self-trust / inner wisdom rhetoric, describing changes in self-perception, body trust, or self-acceptance.	0 = Absent 1 = Self-improvement language ("I feel better about myself") 2 = Explicit usage of brand rhetoric ("I'm learning to trust myself," "Coming home to my body")
Emotional & Somatic Transformation	Describes personal growth, emotional shift, embodiment or life change, pertaining to body acceptance, cyclical living, or healing.	0 = Absent 1 = Vague or brief mention ("it changed me") 2 = Specific, embodied account ("I removed my IUD and began honoring my monthly cycle")
Loyalty & Sustained Engagement	Mentions continued use, long membership, returning after absence, or makes strong recommendations.	0 = Absent 1 = Implied continued use or positive recommendation 2 = Explicit loyalty statement, duration mentioned, active evangelism
Overall Sentiment	General emotional tone of comment or review.	1 = Negative / critical 2 = Neutral / mixed 3 = Positive / enthusiastic

#	Source Type	Content Unit Title	Raw Content Text
1	Video Description	Descent into the Body Yin Yoga focused on the Yoni Mudra & the Lower Body	This yin class invites you into a deeply feminine and intuitive space, guided by the ancient wisdom of Yoni Mudra. More than a hand gesture, Yoni Mudra is a sacred symbol – a portal – connecting you to the source within: your womb space, your center, your creative origin. Here, we soften, not to collapse, but to remember. To remember what it feels like to be in deep presence with yourself. To feel the emotions that live beneath the surface, the ones you don't need to fix or figure out. This class is an invitation to descend – into your body, into your truth, into the quiet knowing of your feminine essence. Yoni Mudra becomes the thread we return to again and again throughout the practice – a gentle reminder that everything you seek is already within. You are held. You are enough. Welcome home.
2	Video Description	Restorative Evening Series: Spine & Spirals Soft Evening Yoga	My love, this gentle, nurturing class is part of Restorative Evenings — a cozy 3-part series created to support you through this season with softness, presence, and care. In Spine & Spirals, we move slowly and with tenderness through spiral-inspired shapes that hydrate and awaken the spine. A practice to release the residue of the day — not just from your body, but from your heart and nervous system, too. This class is perfect for evenings when you crave grounding, spaciousness, and a moment to come home to yourself. You can access the full Restorative Evening

			Series inside my membership Unfold — including: ✧ Unwind the Hips ✧ Spine & Spirals (this one!) ✧ Soften the Heart. If you loved this class, come explore the full series with us on Unfold here: [Link] You are always welcome. With love, Lisa
3	Video Description	Move Through Fatigue / Exhaustion Somatic Release Yoga Class	This class is part of the new series "Somatic Release Series - Empower Your Emotions." This soothing somatic release yoga class was designed to address fatigue and exhaustion. This class offers gentle, restorative movements that help release tension and replenish your energy as well as some more activating moments to revitalise your energetic body. We will explore our own heaviness and use it as a starting point for exploration. This practice is your sanctuary for release, allowing you to embrace both rest and rejuvenation, hopefully leaving you feeling refreshed and empowered "Somatic Release Series - Empower Your Emotions," is a transformative journey designed to help you navigate and release the powerful emotions that shape our lives. In this series, I will guide you through a variety of classes, each focused on a different emotion, using the gentle and effective combination of yoga and somatic tools. We will explore common feelings such as overwhelm, exhaustion, grief, anger, anxiety, and more. Through mindful movement, breathwork, and other somatic practices, you'll learn how to be with and make space for these emotions in your body and gently release the tension they create. This series is about empowering you to embrace your emotions with compassion, understanding, and grace. Join me on this path of emotional empowerment and discover the strength within you to move through life's challenges with resilience and ease [Link]
4	Video Description	Supine Yin Yoga Deep Somatic Psoas Unwinding	Discover the opening and deep relaxation of your psoas muscle through our Supine Yin Yoga class. This session is designed to guide you into a state of somatic unwinding, allowing your body to release tension and emotional holding patterns. Through gentle, sustained poses, you'll experience a nurturing journey inward, reconnecting with your body's innate wisdom and fostering a deep sense of peace. Knowing there is nothing for you to do other than to receive. Enjoy my loves
5	Video Description	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	Welcome to Day 7 of Journey to Balance! In this Yin and Yang fusion practice, we'll play with circular movements—the circle as a powerful symbol of wholeness. Through flowing vinyasa sequences and grounding yin poses, we'll explore the vastness of our being, both internally and externally. Circles, with no start or endpoint, remind us of life's perpetual motion—the great rhythm of the universe. By tracing circles in our movements, we'll cultivate a sense of completeness within, surrendering to the continuous journey rather than striving for a destination. 6	Video Description	Liquid Motion 20 Min Fluid Embodiment Flow	Hello my love, This is a video of my exclusive course 'Embodied Love'. This course will be available on my Unfold membership page. However, to give you an insight, I am sharing one of the videos of this journey with you today. Today we tap into our innate fluidity. As we embark on the journey of movement on our mats, we not only explore our physical selves but also unearth the essence of who we truly are within. It is an opportunity to unravel the layers of conditioning that society has draped upon us, allowing our authentic truth to rise to the surface like a graceful stream flowing effortlessly. Through this exploration, we discover the freedom to express ourselves in ways we never thought possible, like water cascading down a serene waterfall, uninhibited and wholly unapologetic. 7	Video Description	Unraveling the Day Somatic Evening Yoga Flow for Downregulation	This class is an invitation to lay down the day. Not just physically, but in every part of you. You will be gently guided through a practice that helps you soothe your nervous system, ground your body, and return to yourself — exactly as you are. Let yourself be held. By the earth, by the movement, by yourself. Accompanied by a specially composed soundscape by Ara Luna. What to expect A slow, body-led practice that invites you layer by layer into deeper relaxation and presence. You begin lying on your side, with a gentle breathing exercise and a first moment of arriving. From there the practice flows through soft, breath-guided movements — opening and gathering, expanding and returning — before leading you into deeper shapes and finally into a held Shavasana. You will need: a bolster or a thickly folded blanket, and optionally a block or a few books for Shavasana.

8	Community Post	Return After Absence + Pregnancy Announcement	Hello my loves, You may have noticed that it's been a little quiet around here lately... and I wanted to take a moment to share why. Over the past couple of months, I've been navigating a few things behind the scenes — not only the tender unfolding of my pregnancy (yes, our baby girl is arriving this October already!) but also some unexpected issues with YouTube that needed a bit of extra care to sort out. It took a little longer than I hoped, but everything is working smoothly now, and I'm so happy to say: I'm back! I've missed showing up for you here. And I'm beyond excited to return with regular new uploads from now on. There are so many beautiful, nourishing classes waiting in the wings — and I can't wait to begin sharing them with you, beginning this Sunday! Thank you, from the bottom of my heart, for your patience, your presence, and your love as I move through this new chapter of life. It's a tender, transformative time — and knowing this community is still here, still breathing together, means more than words can say. And if you've been missing our practices together, I want to gently remind you that our Unfold membership space is always open for you. Inside Unfold, you'll find: ✦ Hundreds of exclusive classes, meditations & somatic journeys ✦ Replays of all live sessions ✦ Weekly new uploads of yummy content ✦ A beautiful library of guest teachers sharing their heart's wisdom And perhaps most precious of all — a deeply supportive, loving community space. The Unfold community is truly the heart of what we do. It's where like-minded souls come together in devotion to their practice, to their healing, and to meeting themselves in their real, honest humanness. You are always welcome there — exactly as you are. And because I know times can be tender and I want to make this space as accessible as possible, I'm offering you a 50% discount off your first month of the monthly plan — which means you'll get full access to Unfold for only 12€ for your first month. Use this discount code: YOUTUBEFAMILY [Link] (Valid until October 1st — and only for the monthly plan!) Plus, there's always a 7-day free trial, so you can feel it out and see if it resonates for you. Whether you join us in the membership, on the mat here on YouTube, or simply stay connected in this space — thank you for being here. I feel deeply grateful to walk alongside you. See you this Sunday for our first new class! With love and devotion, Lisa
9	Community Post	Personal Pregnancy Update + Prenatal Yoga Launch	A little personal update from my heart to yours My dear YouTube family, As some of you who are following me on socials or are part of my membership Unfold already know: I'm pregnant with our baby girl! This journey has already been such a deeply humbling, magical, and tender experience — and I feel so honored to be walking it while continuing to share space with you here. As my body shifts and opens to new life, you can expect to see some new offerings here on the channel: gentle, nourishing prenatal yoga classes for anyone who is currently pregnant, consciously conceiving, or simply curious about connecting with their body in a softer, more intuitive way. The first prenatal yoga class is going live today, and it comes straight from my heart (and belly!) to yours. And please know — if you're not on the pregnancy journey yourself — I'll still continue to create and share a wide variety of classes and practices for all bodies and stages of life. This is and always will be a space for every-body to feel welcomed, supported and lovingly held. Thank you for being here with me, in all the phases of growth and change. I can't wait to move, breathe, and expand with you in this next chapter. With so much love, Lisa

1	Descent into the Body Yin Yoga focused on the Yoni Mudra & the Lower Body	@aninhacabarbosa	How grateful I am to have found you and your channel. Every practice is deep, powerful, and yet simple... It's always transformative to be with you.
2	Descent into the Body Yin Yoga focused on the Yoni Mudra & the Lower Body	@drsmitakumar1	This was such a beautiful and powerful practice. I just finished hosting a 6day healing retreat on embracing your dark feminine and this practice brought some very powerful insights...connecting with the same energy at a deeper level. Thank you for such a powerful and beautiful practice. Lots of love and gratitude to you and your wisdom!
3	Descent into the Body Yin Yoga focused on the Yoni Mudra & the Lower Body	@NevaehDaniels-u8g	This was so transformative, thank you. I started and found myself steeping in frustration, loneliness, worries, and anger. Throughout this practice these emotions were allowed to be heavy and here. Thank you
4	Descent into the Body Yin Yoga focused on the Yoni Mudra & the Lower Body	@JasmineYospanya	What a beautiful practice... found the yoni mudra so healing and meaningful as I am in my pre-menstrual phase. What a lovely practice to prepare for my bleeding. Sending love, hope you and your sweet girl are doing so well.
5	Descent into the Body Yin Yoga focused on the Yoni Mudra & the Lower Body	@emmamatos5416	This felt very sacred. Thank you. I received these words in my spirit... I give and receive love fully, I trust in love, I am love. Thank you Lisa
6	Restorative Evening Series: Spine & Spirals Soft Evening Yoga	@allisou	This has been a very unique class to me. I don't know if somatic or something, but it moved emotions out of me. It's actually the first time that I cried during a yoga class. Thank you, this was very freeing.
7	Restorative Evening Series: Spine & Spirals Soft Evening Yoga	@dragoonskaia7602	Hello, Lisa! During this class I experienced a profound emotional release, at last I found peace and felt total surrender. I think, piano music added to the effect, too. Thank you for such a deep practice.
8	Restorative Evening Series: Spine & Spirals Soft Evening Yoga	@shyguyscottty	Thank you for this I cried so much and it truly felt like I was bowing and kneeling towards myself, to my body what a way to end 2025 and begin 2026. I appreciate this practice and you for sharing with us very much
9	Restorative Evening Series: Spine & Spirals Soft Evening Yoga	@brodriguez8985	So lovely...thank you it truly did feel like honey was flowing. You are so peaceful and your practices are incredibly nourishing
10	Move Through Fatigue / Exhaustion Somatic Release Yoga Class	@julieragot8050	An absolute gem for when the body is in a state of collapse, gentle, kind and compassionate, working with and not against the heaviness. Gentle strengthening that doesn't overwhelm my system, very complete, love the gentle shaking to move a bit of stagnant energy, the grounding elements that bring back a sense of safety and connection. Very beautiful and so needed, thank you
11	Move Through Fatigue / Exhaustion Somatic Release Yoga Class	@arriveyoga	Yet another transformative loving flow. Truly in love with the love you put in all your videos. This is an amazing topic to share as well, I feel everyone can truly relate and benefit from this beautiful series. I highly recommend to watch the intro to this series also, you explain very well and help set the mindset for the practice perfectly. Thanks again for sharing your beautiful gifts with us Lisa!

12	Move Through Fatigue / Exhaustion Somatic Release Yoga Class	@meditatewithjune	Lisa, thank you for your wonderful classes! I love your flow, and I always feel so held. This path of femininity resonates deeply, which is why I've launched my own YouTube channel offering meditation classes for women.
13	Move Through Fatigue / Exhaustion Somatic Release Yoga Class	@alicethehippy	I've been moving with you for years now and I love your flows. Thank you for sharing your energy with us. I loved this practice. I appreciate you
14	Supine Yin Yoga Deep Somatic Psoas Unwinding	@gildalozano5077	Such calming great practice. I love all your practices you are the best online yoga instructor. You always know what the body needs to relax and I thank you.
15	Supine Yin Yoga Deep Somatic Psoas Unwinding	@jungleboogie91	I love everything about this - the whole practice, the postures, the birds singing, the music, the beautiful background, your soft voice and gentle guidance. I ended up so relaxed. This is absolutely perfect. Thank you so much for this beautiful gift and for everything you do! Lots and lots of love to you dear Lisa!
16	Supine Yin Yoga Deep Somatic Psoas Unwinding	@phoebejaneb	I experienced my first tremor in butterfly pose, was one of the deepest releases I've ever had. I feel so safe with you, so held. I can't practice with anyone else anymore.
17	Supine Yin Yoga Deep Somatic Psoas Unwinding	@grassbench	You are my favourite youtube yoga channel. Your words penetrate my soul so deeply. Thank you for helping me find safety and love.
18	Supine Yin Yoga Deep Somatic Psoas Unwinding	@kalebjames2292	I think this is my favorite practice I have done with you. Perhaps one of my favorite online practices all together. So balanced, so grounding, so deeply relaxing and centering and I've been watching my mind like a hamster wheel today. This is very powerful. I am going to trial this as a daily morning routine. Thank you so much Lisa :) Blessings to you.
19	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	@drngthh	I love your videos. Your videos help me a lot in the journey of learning to love my true self. Your voice, your simple moves and your slow practicing make big differences from other yoga channels. You taught me that yoga does not need to be complicated or hard to do, just simply connect with my body and find out joy in every movement.
20	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	@arriveyoga	Yet another beautiful gift for today. Thank you for sharing your gifts with the world. This flow was incredible. Such a great balance between Yin and Yang and I absolutely love the concept and integration of circles! I feel the energy flow in such a beautiful way. Thanks again Lisa, you are an angel!
21	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	@priyankahardikar6114	This was one of the most beautiful practices I've ever done. I love how you encourage intuitive movements and fluidity in your practices, how it feels free-flowing and rhythmic like a dance. I felt so much tension release from my body as you guided us, and at the end, when you told us to get heavy on the mat because the earth can carry us, I felt so much relief. I love when you reminded us, "All of you is always welcome. All of you is always held." Thank you so much, Lisa. Your practices help me return to myself when I feel disconnected. They help me accept myself when there are parts I struggle to accept. Your love is so healing. Sending you so much love back.
22	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	@barksandtrails	Every practice you share feels so special. I'm truly grateful for the way you guide each session. I discovered your channel during a very difficult time, and it helped me slow down, find calm, and care for myself when I needed it most. Thank you so much

23	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	@budahbroken	This just made me cry so much! I let myself make any sounds my body wanted to. And oh how I cried about embracing and understanding that we are always enough. Your love is so pure and unconditional and understanding! I love all the energy and compassion, the gratitude you hold for what it means to be a human on this earth. THANK YOU
24	You Are Everything Yin & Yang Fusion Embodying the Flow of Life	@QuintessentialMoo	Thank you so much for this practice Mama Bare, I don't normally enjoy chattiness during yoga but this was particularly remarkable. Your words were truly nourishing.
